Multiple spins or turning on one single leg are not considered as tricks.

LIFT

A lift is a movement in which both feet are off the ground with the help of the partner.

JUDGING CRITERIA

Judging criteria should follow the three representative channels: hearing, sight and kynesthetic.
Judges should set a different idea for each perception channel following the different sub-categories, as the following chart explains:

PERCEPTION CHANNEL INVOLVED	CRITERIA	%	DESCRIPTION
HEARING (A)	TIMING	33	Salsa timing is 1-2-3, 5-6-7 or 2-3-4, 6-7-8. Dancers should keep the timing for the whole performance depending on the discipline involved, Bachata timing is 1-2-3-4, 5-6-7-8 . Dancers should keep the timing for the whole performance depending on the discipline involved.
	MUSICALITY		Dancers should demonstrate their ability to act in a creative way in relationship with the music. This can be done in different ways like partnerwork, footwork, tricks and lift.
SIGHT (V)	TECNIQUE	33	Technique is demonstrated through balance, posture, and the line of the arms, legs, and feet. Technical characterization of the dance is essential, and body movements should be typical and characteristic.
	DIFFICULTY		Difficulty of the choreography is seen through footwork, partnerwork, spins, lifts and tricks. In order to obtain credits on one of these features, each movement should be performed with correct technique and appropriate effort.
	CONNECTION AND SYNCHRO		Connection is the ability to have correct lead and follow between the two partners. Synchro during side by side and during the shine will help to give the punctuation for this criteria.
	COREOGRAPHY		Creativity, originality of the performance will be evaluated. A good choreography should show creative elements and originality in its execution. It is fundamental to move in the space in a proper and confident way.
KYNESTHETIC (K)	SHOWMANSHIP	33	Showmanship is the ability of the dancer of expressing emotions, related to the dance of the performance, creating the right atmosphere on a interpretative, artistic and charismatic level.
